

DR. HADLEY RESIGNED TO DEATH

Wife Slayer, Scheduled to Be Executed Friday, Devotes
Last Days to Prayer.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 7.—Dr. Wilmer A. Hadley, former reserve army surgeon from Friendswood, Texas, scheduled to die in the electric chair in the Virginia penitentiary Friday for the murder of his wife, formerly Miss Sue Kathleen Tinsley, of Cincinnati, has been passing much of his time in prayer for the last week, according to Judge J. Hoge Ricks of juvenile and domestic relations court, his spiritual adviser.

Resigned to Fate.
Dr. Hadley is a Quaker. To all appearances he is resigned to his fate and has no hope of executive clemency, although several petition urging commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment have been received by Governor Davis. One letter is said to have come from a sister-in-law of his murdered wife, who still feels grateful to him for the manner in which he once treated her little child when it was sick.

Judge Ricks, who is conscientiously opposed to capital punishment, is still hopeful that Governor Davis may extend clemency. The governor, who has been out of the town for several days, is not expected back until tomorrow. It is presumed he will reach some decision during the day. If he does not, he may grant the condemned

Kaptivating Kid Kalls on Kol.Kroll to Katch Klassy Kween

Girls, here's a husband. Line forms to right, please.
The prospect, one Larry H. Anthony Grainger, 132 North Carolina avenue southeast, in appealing to Colonel Kroll, marriage license clerk today, says that he is twenty-two years old, and is "considered good looking, in perfect health, and has a business college education."
Larry, or Anthony, as the case may be, "would like to meet and marry some young, lonesome girl."

"I haven't any assets, but plenty of liabilities," he frankly states. "Some young girl who will pull with me and help make a success of life," is what he needs.

man a respite until he has sufficient time to give the case full consideration.

Seen in Death Chamber. Dr. Hadley was convicted in Henrico county circuit court October 25. There are six other prisoners, all negroes, in the chamber awaiting electrocution.

Dr. Hadley pays little attention to the other occupants. He has no callers except Judge Ricks.
The incident on which he was convicted charged that he drugged and then drowned his wife in the James river near Richmond in November, 1918, while he was stationed at West-hampton debarment hospital. Love for an army nurse from New York, who has since married a man in that city, was alleged to have been the motive for the crime.

HARDING SUMS UP U. S. VIEWS, ASSERTS BRITON

America Will Help Europe If She Helps Herself, Is View of Harris.

By H. WILSON HARRIS.
Diplomatic Correspondent of the London Daily News.
(Copyright, 1921, by the International News Service.)

One phrase in President Harding's message to Congress seems, if a British observer may express the opinion, to sum up the whole American attitude toward Europe.

The people of the world, the President asserted, "must themselves turn to the heroic remedies for the menacing conditions under which they are struggling; then we can help and we mean to help." Europe has no particular reason to complain of that declaration.

That is fair enough, but unfortunately certain European writers and speakers have made the mistake of painting Europe's condition in the darkest colors in the hope of appealing to America's charity rather than her business instincts. That kind of appeal has failed, and it deserves to fail. Moreover, it is not even based on fact. Europe is in a bad way, but she is not slipping down the hill. She is climbing up it.

Currencies are in a hopeless state, but money is after all only a symbol of value. Europe is gradually pulling herself together. Poland, for example, had this year a harvest more than sufficient for her needs. So had Rumania. So had Bulgaria. So had Hungary. So, I think, had France. Italy is steadily getting on her feet. Germany is in difficulties with her finance and her reparation payments, but her factories are hard at work, and there is hardly any unemployment.

Moreover animosities are dying down. M. Briand's picture of a revengeful Germany waiting to fall on an isolated France would be rejected by most British and many French. Altogether, Europe is doing quite a lot to help herself, and the kind of counsel given by Mr. Harding is well calculated to encourage her to keep on doing it.

FOREIGN DEBT FUNDING BILL TO BE ASSAILED

Democrats Plan to Fight Measure Before Senate Finance Committee.

By J. BART CAMPBELL.
International News Service.

A smashing attack on the foreign debt funding bill was planned today at a conference of the Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee in which Senators Simmons of North Carolina, Reed of Missouri and Walsh of Massachusetts took a leading part.

Despite the opposition of the Democratic minority, and of some Republican Senators, including Borah of Idaho and LaFollette of Wisconsin, Republican leaders declared that a bill made by them foreshadowed sufficient votes to insure the ultimate passage of the measure in the form the President desires.

Failure of the Senate Finance Committee to agree on the bill is threatening to delay consideration of it in the Senate, although Chairman Fessenden hopes to muster enough votes when the committee tackles it again tomorrow to enable him to report it then.

Senator Simmons is pressing for the adoption of his amendments which would (1) compel the payment of interest due by July 1, 1922; (2) forbid any readjustment of the debt by an interchange of bonds between the United States and old-established debtor nations like Great Britain, France, and Italy; (3) require the payment of interest at the rate authorized when the debt was incurred, and thereby prevent a lower rate of interest being allowed; and (4) prohibit any construction of the bill to be made, either in whole or in part, as to permit any remission or cancellation of principal or interest.

Senator Walsh would have the bill amended so as to make the commission of five it would cloak with blanket authority to deal with the debt directly answerable to Congress not only in major but minor matters, and forbid it to enter into any arrangement for the readjustment of any part of either principal or interest without the advice and consent of Congress.

CONSCIENCE GUIDE IN VOTE ON BEER ACT, SAYS SENATOR

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 7.—United States Senator L. Heislter Ball last night replied to the letter of protest sent him by the Rev. William C. Harris, president of the Methodist Preachers' Association, explaining his opposition to the medicinal beer bill when it was before Congress.
Senator Ball says in his letter that his "conscience was his guide" in his vote, and that while he has always voted against beer as a beverage, he believes a physician, which is the Senator's profession, should be allowed to prescribe alcohol, because "in my opinion it is the only thing that will save a man's life, under certain conditions."

HOLSTEIN HANGS UP BUTTER RECORD FOR 3-YEAR-OLDS

WAUPACA, Wis., Dec. 7.—Wisconsin's Pride Second, a pure-bred Holstein Friesian cow owned by John Erickson, a breeder living near here, has completed a yearly record which gives her the world's championship in the senior three-year-old class, with a production of 1,327.94 pounds of butter from 29,502.9 pounds of milk. These figures exceed by a considerable margin the former record held by Lady Agie Echo Hengerveld, a California cow.

MOBS IN CHINA FLAY COURSE OF ARMS PARLEY

Furious at Shantung Action.
Peking Cabinet Called on To Resign.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 7.—A gigantic demonstration protesting against the course of the Shantung negotiations at Washington and demanding the resignation of the Peking government took place here today.

It is reported from Peking that President Hsu Shih Chang is threatening to retire from office.

Mass meetings were held here at which speakers exhorted their audiences to "pray for the righteousness of the Chinese cause at Washington."

The Associated Chambers of Commerce sent a telegram to Peking alleging that China had been betrayed. Threats were made that the Chinese delegates would get a hostile reception on their return from Washington.

It is charged by adherents of the South China republic that the manner in which direct negotiations were conducted over the future status of Shantung peninsula gave China the worst of it.

FAKE DRY AGENTS SEIZE TRUCKLOAD OF WHISKEY

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Six bogus prohibition agents, flashing badges and threatening to shoot, unless obeyed yesterday held up a truck in West Sixty-first street loaded with eighty-one cases of whiskey "arrested" the driver, and, after permitting him to telephone his predicament to his employer, drove off with the truck and its contents.

No trace of the thieves or the liquor has been found.

Police detectives and prohibition agents were reported to be in force last night, along Broadway. Many resorts suspected of trafficking in liquor were visited, but only three prisoners, two of them Chinese, were taken.

The Chinese were charged with having sold two pints of liquor to a detective.

BEATS WOMAN FOR BLOOD TO CURE RHEUMATISM

SUNBURY, Pa., Dec. 7.—To cure a bad attack of rheumatism in both feet she had to beat a woman who "bewitched" her and take some of the blood to a fortune teller, Mrs. Maggie Kinzel, of Mt. Carmel, told a jury here yesterday in explaining why she nearly killed Mrs. Annie Metzger, her neighbor.

Mrs. Kinzel said she put her feet on a pad of wax and the impression clearly showed the face of Mrs. Metzger. The jury found her guilty of assault and Judge Moser imposed fine and costs totalling $200.
